Re: LSI2018 Call for Submission

The Program Committee of Light & Sound Interactive 2018 is still accepting proposals for talks, panel discussions, demonstrations, and other interactive events for the LSI 2018 Conference. The Conference and Expo will be held September 12-14 at the Joseph A. Floreano Rochester Riverside Convention Center. Submissions are invited for any of the conference tracks:

Cinema
Games and Interactive Media
Displays & Lighting
Healthcare
Imaging
Music and Audio
Optics and Photonics
Startup Central
Virtual and Augmented Reality

Proposed talks and events should follow these guidelines:

1. They must be consistent with one of the track themes
2. They must be of current interest
3. They should appeal to a broad audience
4. They must be at a level that is accessible to a broad audience, i.e., not overly technical
5. The length of talks is generally 30 minutes or less, panel discussions are typically 60 minutes in duration
6. It is entirely permissible to propose a talk by oneself

Submissions should be emailed to info@lightandsound.org by March 1, 2018 and must contain the following information.

1. Title of talk/event
2. Name(s) of presenters
3. Nature of event: e.g., talk, panel discussion, demonstration, performance, other
4. Short abstract/synopsis of the proposed event (250 words or less)
5. Proposer contact information: name, email, phone number

All submissions will be notified at the latest by April 1, 2018. Please note that the number of available spaces is quite limited so early submissions are encouraged.
